Pearson Blended Learning Resources are aligned with NEP 2020

The National Education Policy 2020 has suggested a change in the basic academic structure by making grades 1 and 2 an extension of the Early Childhood Education with focus on developing the Social, Emotional, Cognitive and Physical needs of the learners besides the development of communication and early language, literacy and numeracy. The reforms aim to bridge the gap between existing learning outcomes and the actual outcomes required for further learning and development. The policy emphasizes that curriculum and pedagogy in schools should ensure that learning is Holistic, Integrated, Inclusive, Enjoyable and Engaging. It is envisioned that this would lead learners to reach their highest level of Creativity.

While NEP keeps the learners at the heart of the learning ecosystem, it emphasizes on transforming the quality of teaching by empowering teachers with the right training in content and pedagogy to lead this reform.

It states that Assessment, another integral part of learning, must be designed for regular checks to ensure attainment of learning outcomes. There is strong recommendation on the use of alternative assessments administered through various means. The policy also contends promotion of art & culture and health & fitness. The students are expected to grow to be adults with rich human constitutional values.
